

Trudy Coleman
Region V FEEA Scholarship Chairman

Trudy is a retired high school English teacher and speech coach. She spent the last twenty-five years of her career teaching in Clarksville, Iowa. She is a spouse member of NARFE. Trudy's husband, Bruce, just finished two terms as Iowa Federation president. Bruce and Trudy have lived in their Waverly home for over forty years.

Her hobbies include reading (belonging to two book clubs); traveling; sewing (she is learning how to quilt); writing scripts and performing with the Cedar River Readers; solving crossword and Sudoku puzzles; and of course, spending time with family.

Bruce and Trudy have two children. Their son, Corey, is a business owner in Cedar Falls. Their daughter, Tricia, is a medical social worker. Tricia, her husband, and twenty-one-month-old Gracie Jane relocated to Waverly last summer.

Bruce and Trudy have both been involved in various community and church activities over the years. At this point, Trudy doesn't imagine slowing down very much. Instead, she believes they are adding activities to their busy lives.
